

MCCC County Resident Library Privileges

MCCC county residents are welcome to visit the MCCC libraries. The West Windsor Campus Library features books, audiovisual resources, periodicals, reference materials, an open computer lab, electronic resources, and seating for quiet study and reflection. The James Kerney Campus Library has many similar resources. Access to online databases and resources is available in both campus libraries. Remote access to databases and interlibrary loan services are only available from a County resident’s home public library since vendor stipulations prevent us from providing this service.

An MCCC County Resident card is required in order to borrow from the MCCC library collection and to use the open computer labs located. Computer lab seating is available on a seats available basis. All college and library rules and regulations regarding behavior are expected of County residents using any campus library.
