“Perhaps more important than all the history, culture, food and architecture that we experienced, what I learned on this trip was much about myself. I really came out of my shell and opened up, and for that I directly appreciate the total cultural immersion opening my eyes to so many wonders.”

The MCCC GO! Center is the place to begin your global adventure, where students, faculty, and staff can come to learn about international and intercultural travel and study opportunities.

Mission of the GO! Center

To foster an enthusiasm to address local, global, international, and intercultural issues and to equip faculty and staff and prepare students to become leaders in an increasingly interconnected world.

GO! Beginnings

In 2010 a group of 26 students, faculty, and community members traveled to Rome to study the architecture, food, and culture of the Italian people. MCCC GO! was born.

Faculty Exchange

MCCC faculty study and lecture abroad. In an exchange agreement, Mercer faculty lectured at the University of St. Kliment Ohridski in Macedonia and University of St. Kliment Ohridski faculty traveled and lectured at Mercer.

Study Abroad - Faculty-led

Faculty travel with students for short-term experiences to course-specific destinations. One- to two-week stays have included Costa Rica, Cuba, London, Paris, Poland, South Africa, and Spain.

Study Abroad- Semester

Students independently travel for a semester or longer to countries of their choosing. Program partner is the College Consortium for International Studies (<http://ccisabroad.org>). MCCC students have been to Italy, Spain, Finland, and Ireland.

Visiting International Students

International students visit to study and experience MCCC. Mexican and Chinese students have visited MCCC for summer program experiences.

International Education Week (IEW)

Mercer celebrates IEW with opportunities for students, faculty and staff to participate in global perspective discussions. Topics have included, Mao's Famine and the Cultural Revolution, Food Migrations Through Southeast Asia, Asian and Greek Dance, Global Economics, and more. Holocaust survivors and international students discuss their experiences.

Internationalization of the Curriculum

Students are able to choose from over 40 diversity and global perspective courses.

Global Education Conference

A Global Education conference which brings together college students, faculty, staff, and administrators from the region to share and learn about preparing a global citizenry has roots in the MCCC GO! Center.
