

Pulitzer-Nominated Play At MCCC This Weekend

In their first production of the fall semester, students at Mercer County Community College will perform Howard Korder's Pulitzer Prize-nominated play, Boys' Life. This heterosexual coming-of-age black comedy takes place Friday, November 19 at 8 p.m., Saturday, November 20 at 2 and 8 p.m., and Sunday, November 21 at 2 p.m. at MCCC's Studio Theatre, located next to Kelsey Theatre on the West Windsor Campus, 1200 Old Trenton Road.

First performed in 1988, Boys' Life focuses on the lives of three 20-something men - at an age when "lives" and "sex lives" are virtually the same. The show plays out in a series of scenes following Jack, Don and Phil, who are either on the prowl or analyzing and justifying their adventures. The MCCC production is directed by Jeremy Robinson.

"We see characters who are attempting to grow up, while, at the same time, refusing to grow up. Their combination of frustration and anticipation rings true. There is much for young people and adults to relate to in this play," says Jody Person, the Theatre Program Coordinator at MCCC and the producer of the show.

Other upcoming arts events on campus include a Student Dance Concert on Friday, December 3 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, December 4 at 2 p.m.; and performances of Jody Person's play The Storm, December 4 at 8 p.m. and December 5 at 2 p.m.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS: Three twenty-somethings on the prowl are the subject of the black comedy "Boys' Life," being presented at Mercer County Community College November 19-21. Performances take place in the Studio Theatre, next to Kelsey Theatre, on the West Windsor campus.

Tickets for all three events are $14 for adults, $12 for seniors, and $10 for students and children. Call (609) 570-3333 or visit www.kelseytheatre.net.
