

Title: IPIC's Professional Development Sampler Fall 2012

Once again, we are very excited to invite you to our IPIC Professional Development Sampler Fall 2012. There's something for everyone and all are welcome!

This year we have done something different.

We are offering tracks of workshops in three specific areas: Teaching and Learning (TL), College Programs and Policies (CPP), and Student Support Services (SSS). We have done our best not to have the tracks conflict.

- For those of you interested in the Teaching and Learning track, we have a variety of courses that should appeal to everyone. There are sessions on the learning experience of an online student, the Curriculum Agenda, teaching writing in a non-English class, ethics, active learning, and Prezi, just to name a few.
- Specifically for our language adjunct faculty, we have added a session that coincides with your trip to the campus for the Thursday evening Convocation: "Best Practices in Teaching Foreign Languages".
- For those interested in our College Programs and Policies track, we have workshops on academic integrity, Project NASA, the Completion Agenda, fundraising activities, and an overview of what the Marketing and Communications Department can do to help you and a review of the new Style Guide.
- Finally, for those of you interested in the Student Support Services track, we have an update on the "First 30", financial aid and the Advisory Commission.

Our IPIC Workshops are scheduled for Monday afternoon (8/20), Wednesday afternoon (8/22), Thursday evening (8/23), and Friday morning (8/23). We'd love to see you join us.

Please visit the following link to review the many choices, check out the details, and register:

<http://teach.mccc.edu/ipic>

We look forward to seeing you all there!

If you have any questions, please call X3551.

Wishing you a restful summer filled with family and friends!

On behalf of the IPIC committee,
Theresa Capra and Alison Becker-Moses