

DRAWING ACCLAIM

'Art All Over' exhibit displays local originality

WEST WINDSOR — "Art All Over," a new exhibit at Mercer County Community College celebrating what Gallery Director Tricia Fagan called the "exuberant art spirit that motivates human beings to adorn, appropriate, change, embellish, color, and re-create the home (and in his band) to reflect his unique take on that time.

Haleta has taken one of his own beloved icons — the superhero comic book — and created dense, meticulous, obsessively interwoven "objects" on paper, using hundreds of pieces of comic book pages as his media.

Unlike Haleta, Stang (perhaps better known as a jeweler to the area art community) actively disliked one of her inspirations — Ernie Bushmiller's "Nancy" comic strip — until her tongue-in-cheek manipula-

