Method of Instruction:

A combination of lecture and discussion will be employed to acquaint the students with the basic principles of U.S. constitutional law.

Method of Evaluation:

The course will be divided into three units and each unit will be followed by an examination. There will be a comprehensive final exam during the final exam week.

Exams and one’s final course grade will be based on the following scale:

   A = 90-100
   B = 80 – 89
   C = 70 – 79
   D = 60 – 69
   F = below 60

Classroom Environment:

Mercer welcomes all students who wish to be part of a learning community. The faculty and staff strive to maintain an environment of pride in our diverse community and mutual respect among all persons within it.

An important responsibility is to respect the rights of your classmates to learn. Your instructors are authorized to establish reasonable rules of conduct within their courses, and to require you to leave any class session in which your behavior disrupts the learning environment. (Please note that there are many forms of potentially disruptive behavior, ranging from “acting out” to engaging in side conversations to receiving cell phone calls or audible beeper messages.)

The college welcomes all students into an environment that creates a sense of community of pride and respect; we are all here to work cooperatively and to learn together.

Violations of Academic Integrity:

A student will be guilty of violating ACADEMIC INTEGRITY if he/she (a) knowingly represents work of others as his/her own, (b) uses or obtains unauthorized assistance in the execution of any academic work, or (c) gives fraudulent assistance to another student.

The college recognizes the following general categories of violations of Academic Integrity, with representative examples of each. Academic Integrity is violated whenever a student:
1. Uses or obtains unauthorized assistance in any academic work.
   • copying from another student’s exam
   • using notes, books or other aids of any kind during an exam when prohibited
   • stealing an exam or possessing a stolen copy of an exam.
2. Gives fraudulent assistance to another student.
   • completing an academic activity or taking an exam for someone else
   • giving answers to or sharing answers with another student during an exam
   • sharing answers during an exam by using a system of signals
3. Knowingly represents the work of other as his/her own, or represents previously completed academic work as current.
   • submitting a paper or other academic work for credit which includes words, ideas, data or creative work of others without acknowledging the source.
   • using another author’s words without enclosing them in quotation marks, without paraphrasing them or without citing the source appropriately
   • presenting another individual’s work as one’s own
   • submitting the same paper or academic assignment to another class without the permission of the instructor
4. Fabricates data in support of an academic assignment.
   • falsifying bibliographic entries
   • submitting any academic assignment which contains falsified or fabricated data or results
5. Inappropriately or unethically uses technological means to gain academic advantage.
   • inappropriate or unethical acquisition of material via the Internet
   • using hidden devices for communication during an exam

Each instructor is authorized to establish specific guidelines consistent with this policy.

CONSEQUENCES FOR VIOLATIONS OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

For a single violation, the faculty member will determine the course of action to be followed. This may include assigning a lower grade on the assignment, assigning a lower final course grade, failing the student in the course, or other penalty appropriate to the violation. In all cases, the instruction shall notify the Chairperson of the Academic Standards Committee of the violation and the penalty imposed. When two (or more) violations of academic integrity are reported on a student, the Academic Standards Committee may impose disciplinary penalties beyond those imposed by the course instructors. The student shall have the right to a hearing before the ASC or a designated subcommittee thereof.
Academic Integrity and Performance:

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY refers to the “integral” quality of the search for knowledge which a student undertakes. The work a student produces, therefore, ought to be wholly his or hers; it should result completely from the student’s own efforts.

1. An academic institution is committed to guiding each student in his or her search for knowledge. That search must be the student’s own and no one else’s.
2. Students are required to perform all work specified by the faculty. They are responsible for the content and integrity of all academic work submitted such as papers, reports, and examinations. When that work has been influenced in any way by the work of others, such influences must be documented or credited according to accepted practices.
3. Students are responsible for maintaining established standards of academic performance with some uniformity for each course section in which they are registered. However, through the orderly procedures of the college, students will have protection against prejudiced or capricious evaluation.
4. Students are expected to attend all classes for every course and are not to absent themselves except for illness or other serious cause. It is the prerogative of each faculty member to excuse absences for valid reasons, should he/she feel that any student may satisfactorily fulfill all course requirements.

Appeals:

The student has a right to appeal the decision of the instructor, or the Academic Standards Committee. Judicial procedures governing violations of Academic Integrity are contained in the Student Handbook.
