Welcome to Psychology 101!

This class will provide you with the basic principles of psychology. For many of you, this may be the only course you take in psychology in order to satisfy your general education requirements or as a general elective. However, some of you will decide to pursue further coursework in psychology by electing psychology as a major.

In this class you will learn what psychology really is, which includes a wide-range of issues relating to all areas of our lives. This course will introduce you to each of the sub-areas of psychology that you can pursue later on in more depth if you wish, such as developmental, cognitive, social, personality, and abnormal psychology. This will allow you the opportunity to decide what specific topics within psychology most excite you.

Whatever your motivation was for signing up for this course, I sincerely hope this will be a wonderful experience for you, as you are introduced to the fascinating, controversial, and always intriguing, field of psychology

Academic Integrity

The work a student produces must be their own and should result solely from their own efforts. Plagiarism or cheating on any assignment is regarded as an extremely serious academic offense. Student's who violate this policy will receive an "F" for the course. Please refer to the Mercer County Community College Academic Integrity Handbook, or request one from the professor.

Reasonable Accommodations for Students with Documented Disabilities

Mercer County Community College is committed to supporting all students in their academic and co-curricular endeavors. Each semester, a significant number of students document disabilities, which may require learning, sight, hearing, manual, speech, or mobility accommodations to ensure access to academic and co-curricular activities. The college provides services and reasonable accommodations to all students who need and have a legal entitlement to such accommodations.

For more information regarding accommodations, you may visit the Office of Academic Support Services in FA129 or contact them at 609.570.3422 or urbanb@mccc.edu.

It will be the student's responsibility to arrange an accommodation. If you are a student with a disability or special need, please advise me within the first 2 weeks of the course so appropriate accommodations can be made.

Attendance and Conduct

As college students you choose to be here. You have elected to register for this course and YOU will determine your overall experience in this class. Although I do not expect students to attend every class due to demands of life, attendance is very important and required. If you miss class, it is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to get the information you have missed. Do not expect or request the notes to be supplied by me if you did not attend lecture. Attendance and lecture notes are crucial to success in this class.

Without question, students who attend class perform better than those who do not...make sure you get to class. If you are often absent, it should lead you to ask the question, "Why did I register for this course?" You will not hurt my feelings if this class is not for you, but please don't just disappear- drop the class as soon as you realize you don't want to be here. If you choose to not return without officially dropping the course, you will receive an "F" on your transcript.

Texting Policy:

As a student in this class you are expected to maintain college-level etiquette, which includes respectful conduct inside and outside the classroom. Texting or use of phone during this class will not be tolerated by any student, there are NO exceptions. Should any student violate this policy the following penalties will be enforced:

1. The first time you are seen texting in class 20 points will be taken from your final grade.
2. If you are seen texting a second time 50 points will be taken from your final grade.
3. If you are seen texting a third time you will be dropped from the course

Attendance Bonus

Students who attend every class will receive a 4 point bonus. If you miss only one class, you will receive a 2 point bonus. Lateness is not acceptable from college students; therefore two lates will be equal to one absence. If you arrive to class after I have taken role, it is YOUR responsibility to advise me that you arrived late otherwise you will be marked as absent. All absences without a doctor's note will be considered unexcused. It is at my discretion to add additional points for active participation.

Online Quizzes via PsychPortal (100 points)

Each student will be required to register and use PsychPortal which accompanies the course text book. PsychPortal is an all-digital learning platform for students in higher education. This program is designed for students to connect with the course material through engaging, interactive content for more effective learning. You will be assigned various activities throughout the semester. Each graded activity will have a due date. Once the deadline has passed, you will not be able to earn points for that assignment. You are responsible for logging into the following your online class section and completing the provided assignments.

Reflection Journals (50 points)

It is crucial in any college-level course, such as this, that students understand how to process the class material in a meaningful way and express, through writing, their critical thinking. In an effort to encourage you to think about psychological topics, you will be required to submit reflection journals. The purpose of this assignment is to process the material and write about what you THINK. What you, as a college student, should do in this activity is write about your thoughts, feelings, and experiences with the information you want to discuss and synthesize those personal thoughts with the course material.

Each student will be required to submit 5 reflection journals each worth 10 points this semester. This reflective journal will be a steadily growing document that you write, to record the progress of your learning. Each of these reflections will be personal expressions of your learning. By reflecting on what you have learned, you can track the progress you've made. These reflection postings will allow you the opportunity to integrate your thoughts and opinions with the course material, which is a very valuable skill you need to develop in college. You must include all of the required elements in each reflection to earn full credit. Keep in mind that this assignment is not a research paper that should be filled with various citations, but a simple reference to the material when appropriate. This will allow you to synthesize of your personal thoughts with psychological content and practice APA style

Remember this is a reflective process in which you should think about how that topic impacts your life. You can also reflect upon any questions or challenges you had while learning the material. By reflecting on what you have learned, you can track the progress you've made. There is no specific question I am expecting you to answer. This is a self-guided process in which you are authoring. Write about an area that was significant or challenging to you. Entries in a reflective journal can include:

- Points that you found specifically interesting in your reading, and would like to follow up in more detail.
- How the material is relevant to your personal life or past/future experiences. Did you learn something that will shape your behavior outside of this class?
- How your learning in this course is related to what you're learning in other ways.
- How this material supported or disproved a personal opinion.
- Each time you write your reflective journal, think back over everything you've done since the last time. These journals should be a reflection of you...what concepts did you find most interesting? Which sources did you learn most from? Which did you learn least from, and why was that? (Did you know the material already?) Write a paragraph or two about the sources of your new learning.

Your reflection journals SHOULD NOT be:

-Book reports. 6th grade is over! You should not be writing book reports on any topic in college! The biggest mistake students make with this assignment is submitting a three paragraph book report which includes every definition they can find about the topic. I already know the definitions....I want to know what YOU think about those topics.

-Personal stories. This assignment required you to understand the material enough to personally reflect on it, but it is not limited to your personal thoughts, opinions or anecdotal stories. You MUST integrate the course material into your journaling. This also means you must cite information from the textbook into each entry.

(REQUIRED) Instructions for writing assignments:

- Your answers MUST combine personal experience/opinion and class material.
- In every reflection you MUST cite the textbook. Material cited must be paraphrased, not quoted. There should be no less than three citations per journal. Direct quotes will result in a loss of 1 point per quote.
- You must cite your sources in the body of the paper (in-text citation) and in a corresponding reference at the end of the reflection using APA format (MLA format is not permitted).
- Please include the assignment number at the top of each paper you submit to ensure your scores are recorded accurately!
- ALL papers must be at least 1 ½ pages in length and be STAPLED. Unstapled papers will not be accepted.

Late Assignments

All assignments must be completed by the due date listed below in the course schedule. If you miss a due date please do not attempt to submit the assignment, I will not accept late papers. However, you may submit ONE late assignment during the course. The ONE late assignment MUST be submitted with a "late pass" which was sent to your Mercer email account on the first day of class.

This late pass will allow a ONE day extension...not one class...one day only. For example, if the assignment is due on October 1st, you can submit the assignment on October 2nd without penalty. Once the one day extension has passed the assignment will not be accepted. Therefore, if you want to earn extra credit in this course YOU MUST PLAN AHEAD.

Extra Credit Opportunities

Journal Review: (10 points)

Each student will be required to review and analyze ONE scholarly journal article. Each article review must answer the questions listed in the table below and must be typed (double-spaced, 12-point font, 1-inch margins with indented paragraphs). There are some journals provided below which can be used for the review. A comprehensive list of online databases is available for Mercer students. Please become familiar with the Social Science databases, PsycArticles and Proquest can be very useful for psychology students. These databases can be found at http://www.mccc.edu/student_library_online.shtml. In addition to those provided below, you may select any scholarly article from a peer-reviewed psychological journal for this assignment.

Articles to choose from (Select One):

- Keen, R. (2003) Representation of Objects and Events: Why do Infants Look So Smart and Toddlers Look So Dumb? Current Directions in Psychological Science. 12 (3)79-83.
- Ashcraft, M. (2002) Math Anxiety: Personal, Educational, and Cognitive Consequences. Current Directions in Psychological Science. 11(5) 181-185.
- Loftus, E.F. & Pickrell, J.E. (1995) The formation of false memories. Psychiatric Annals, 25, 720-725.

In your review, no direct quotes are permitted. Please paraphrase it – put it into your own words. You will lose 1 point for every direct quote in your review. Your review must be at least 1 page in length but no more than 2 pages. At the end of the review make sure to include the full APA citation for the article.

This paper can be submitted at any time during the semester however, it MUST be submitted no later than May 2nd. This paper will be worth 10 extra credit points.

Each extra credit article review is worth 10 points
2 points	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ What were the researchers interested in?▪ What research question(s) were they trying to answer?
2 points	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Who participated in their research? Describe the characteristics of the participants. Where did they get their participants from?
2 points	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ How was the research conducted (describe what the researchers did)?▪ Does the research fit one of the basic research methods we discussed in chapter 1 - naturalistic observation, survey/questionnaire, case study of single individual, experiment, correlational research? Which?▪ If it was an experiment, what variables were manipulated? What variables were measured, recorded or observed?
2 points	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ What did the researchers find? What were the results?▪ What conclusions do the researchers make?
2 point	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Correct APA citation of the article

Flash cards

To encourage good study habits, I will give 4 extra credit points per exam to students who make flash cards of the chapter material. It may not sound like much, but that adds up to 12 extra credits points which will be added to your overall final points. Take advantage of this opportunity!

Course Grading

Your final grade for this class will be calculated on a point system. Your grade will be based on the total number of points accumulated of the entire semester. The required assignments are worth a total of 300 possible points for the course. Use the chart below to keep track of your cumulative points for all assignments for the semester.

Keep track of your Reflection Journal Scores:

Helpful Tips for Success

Student success is not given at the end of the semester as a letter grade, begins on the first day of the semester and earned through persistence. Will you be successful in this class? Each semester many students register for this class and fail...why? Mostly because they did not come to class understanding what it takes to succeed. High school is over...you will not pass this class just by showing up, it will take effort. YOU must care about your success in this class from the very beginning.

How can I succeed in this class?

1. Read the syllabus!!

2. Read the syllabus!!

3. Take responsibility for your performance. YOU will determine your success in this class, not me.

4. Come to class with a good attitude...(or stay home)

5. Come to class on time, prepared and ready to participate.

6. Ask questions and get involved.

7. Complete all assignments on time
8. Take advantage of the extra credit opportunities.
9. Attend office hours if you are having trouble
10. Be proactive...don't wait until the end of semester to get involved!

The following are behaviors and attitudes not associated with successful college students. I encourage questions of all kinds, both inside and outside of the class, but the following are exceptions. None of your Professors enjoy questions such as these, don't be that student.

The Top Ten Questions You Shouldn't Ask Professor Jennings!	Top Ten Answers You will Receive if you do:
1. I wasn't here last class...Did I miss anything important?	No, we waited for to show and when you didn't we all left.
2. When are your office hours?	Read the Syllabus
3. Where is your office?	Read the Syllabus
4. What chapters are on the exam(s)?	Read the Syllabus
5. When is that paper due?	Read the Syllabus
6. Do you have a stapler I can borrow?	No.
7. Are the exam questions HARD...are you trying to trick us?	No.
8. I forgot to take the test...can I have a make-up?	No, take the optional final at the end of the semester.
9. Do I have to buy the book?	No, but you are setting yourself up for failure if you do not have all the course materials.
10. Do we really need to cite our sources?	No, you are special. Everyone else must cite, except for you. Of course you need to cite your sources!

I sincerely hope that you find this subject to be interesting and enjoy this psychology course. It is my goal for each of you to successfully learn in this class, as well as, think critically about issues related to Psychology. Please feel free to contact me at any time during the semester in class, during office hours, by phone or email with any questions.
