

Valenzano Family Winery Paid Culinary Internship

Combining culinary excellence with New Jersey's most popular wines

Since 1996 when we made our first commercial batch of wine, our family has grown our passion into our livelihood. Today, we are one of the east coast's largest wine producers, and many would say its most popular.

Of course, nothing pairs better with wine than delicious cuisine, which is why we created our new casual dining experience, Bari Wine Pub. Valenzano Winery is looking for dedicated and eager-to-learn students to join our talented kitchen staff for an educational culinary internship.

Want to join our team? Reach out to contact@valenzanowine.com for more information.

