

UPDATED GRADING POLICY FOR NUR 202

A variety of means will be used to assess learning throughout the course.

1. CLASSROOM TESTS: There are five classroom tests, one every three weeks. These tests may be comprehensive including previously tested material throughout the course.
2. FINAL EXAM: This test is given during final exam week. It will be comprehensive including all course materials.
3. The FINAL GRADE: 50% Classroom Tests; 50% Final Exam
4. ATI RN COMPREHENSIVE PREDICTOR EXAM:
  - All students must take this exam during the last week of the course.
  - If the student earns a 68% or better on this exam the student can choose to be exempt from taking the N202 course Final Exam.
  - Also, the student must have a classroom test average of 75% or higher in order to qualify for EXEMPTION FROM FINAL EXAM
  - If the student chooses to be exempt from taking the Final Exam the grade calculation would be as follows:
    - Test 1
    - Test 2
    - Test 3
    - Test 4
    - Test 5

} These five tests are averaged together.
This average become 50% of the grade

} This average is also taken as your final exam grade. Together they form your final grade for the course.

EXAMPLE OF CALCULATIONS OF GRADE IF STUDENT IS EXEMPT FROM FINAL EXAM:

- Test 1 80%
  - Test 2 90%
  - Test 3 75%
  - Test 4 80%
  - Test 5 82%
- } These five tests are averaged together
The average is 81.4% = 50% of grade
- THIS GRADE IS THEN USED AS THE FINAL EXAM GRADE: 81.4% = the other 50% OF THE GRADE
  - FINAL GRADE = 81.4%

5. CLINICAL LABORATORY PERFORMANCE EVALUATION: The objectives are graded every three weeks using a satisfactory or unsatisfactory. The student must earn a satisfactory in three of the five rotations in order to pass the clinical component of the course. See form at the end of the course packet.

6. Failure to complete all the above criteria results in a failure of Nursing 202

7. An additional three points can be earned to be added after final computation of the students grade by completing the non-proctored ATI examinations in advance of taking the proctored ATI Mental Health Exam, ATI Care of the Child Exam, ATI RN Comprehensive Predictor Exam. The student must have a 75% in the course before the three points are added.

9. It is critical that each student utilize all components of the ATI modules to prepare effectively for the RN Comprehensive Predictor and for the NCLEX. Success is what we hope for for you!!!
