Learning Center Resources:
No tutors or study groups as of now.

Course Competencies/Student Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to:

1. read primary and secondary historical sources critically, with an understanding of their validity, perspective bias, audience, and context. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: Essay; small and large-group discussions; individual writing assignments]

2. analyze and interpret primary sources (whether they seem more “historical,” “literary,” or “philosophical”) and use them as evidence to support historical arguments. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: Essay; small and large-group discussions]

3. identify and describe the significance of major figures, ideas, and events of western civilization. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: quizzes; individual writing assignments]

4. describe and analyze the context of major movements, trends, and developments of western civilization. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: Essay; individual writing assignments]

5. discuss with authority, either in writing or verbally, the historical forces (e.g., religion, economics, politics, social stratification, gender, individual actors, technology, nature, intellectual and aesthetic thought, etc.) behind the major movements, trends, and developments of western civilization. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: Essay; individual writing assignments]

6. use information technologies in acquiring new knowledge and perspective. (ILG 4, 7, 10, 11) [Methods of assessment: Digital History project; essay]
7. construct an historical essay that presents a clear thesis, a persuasive argument, and uses detailed historical evidence. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: Essay]

8. analyze other time periods and cultures with little or no ethnocentrism or modernism, thus displaying a sense of informed perspective and a deeper appreciation of the common threads of human nature. (ILG 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9) [Methods of assessment: small and large-group discussions; individual writing assignments]

Course-specific Institutional Learning Goals (ILGs)
1. Written and Oral Communication in English: Students will communicate effectively in both speech and writing.
4. Technology: Students will use computer systems or other appropriate forms of technology to achieve educational and personal goals.
5. Social Science: Students will use social science theories and concepts to analyze human behavior and social and political institutions and to act as responsible citizens.
6. Humanities: Students will analyze works in the fields of art, music, or theater; literature; philosophy and/or religious studies; and/or will gain competence in the use of a foreign language.
7. History: Students will understand historical events and movements in World, Western, non-Western or American societies and assess their subsequent significance.
8. Diversity and Global Perspective: Students will understand the importance of a global perspective and culturally diverse peoples.
9. Ethical Reasoning and Action: Students will understand ethical frameworks, issues, and situations.
10. Information Literacy: Students will recognize when information is needed and have the knowledge and skills to locate, evaluate, and effectively use information for college level work.
11. Critical Thinking: Students will use critical thinking skills to understand, analyze, and apply information or solve problems.

Examinations and Required Work.

Instructors have some discretion in determining the format and content of required work.
However, written and verbal assignments in any history course should be designed to help students develop the General Education skills (historical perspective, critical thinking, information literacy, writing, and public speaking) listed above. Instructors should emphasize these goals in their assignments and should state them in their written and verbal instructions to the students.

Upper level (200-level) history courses must include research papers and instruction in doing research and writing within the conventions of history. The library staff can help with the information literacy orientation.

Reading Assignments
    ♦ Textbook as well as primary documents should be clearly assigned to the students

Exams & Quizzes
    ♦ At least one exam (take home or in class)
    ♦ A Final Exam (2 hour exam or take home exam)
    ♦ Exams should include substantial essay components
Writing Assignments (to assess discipline specific knowledge, communication skills, and critical thinking skills). Students are expected to do research and to develop the ability to construct narratives—written or verbal or both—that clearly present their own thesis based on solid evidence that has been thoroughly and critically evaluated. Students are directed in developing competencies in accumulating evidence from a variety of sources, assessing the validity of the evidence, and extracting substantive generalizations from what they have discovered (Information Literacy).

- At least two (2) writing assignments or oral reports
- At least one group presentation or project
- At least one (1) assignment should concentrate on the primary documents
- One (1) major research project (8-10 pages).
