BENCHMARK PROFESSIONAL SEMINARS, INC. PRESENTS: HANDLING AND STORING HAZARDOUS MATERIALS IN THE EVIDENCE/PROPERTY ROOM

February 5-6, 2009

8:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Fee: $295.00 per person (15% discount for 3 or more)

Location: Mercer County Police Academy Satellite Facility: Dempster Fire Service Training Center, 350 Lawrence Station Road, Lawrenceville, NJ 08648

Course Description: A seminar designed to acquaint property room technicians and managers with the proper recognition, handling and storage of hazardous materials including explosives, energetic and radioactive materials, bio hazards, chemical munitions, and other materials which might constitute a danger while still maintaining their evidential value. The seminar will also include procedures for packaging and the safe and legal storing of these items. Topics include: (1) what is a hazardous material and its possible effect upon exposure to both officer and property technician; (2) consideration of hazardous materials in normal evidence which may or may be noticed at the time of seizure; (3) methods of packaging and storage so that the integrity and chain of command might be maintained as well as to allow for the safety of any person who may come into contact with such items; (4) formulation of procedures for collection, recovery and storage of hazardous material; (5) personal safety measures to ensure the health of the property room technician; and (6) use of professional assistance in the storage and handling of hazardous materials.
